

This is a drawing made by Dad when the drain field was repaired. I believe the year was 2012. If I remember correctly, a tree root had damaged a line, leading to clogging of the line.
At that time repairs were made, the tank was pumped, and to my knowledge, there have been no problems since.

According to this sketch, I believe the septic system is located to the right side of the cabin, as seen when standing at the front door.
