

When walking the property: A new survey has been done and posts are marked. The cedar fence goes behind the red house and all the way back and down. If you walk the road, the boundary is on the other side of the low water crossing and ends on other side of creek.