HILLS/VISTAS/LIVE WATER

WBR – FALLS CREEK TRACT

313 ACRES – BLANCO/KENDALL CTYS

WBR – FALLS CREEK TRACT

LOCATION: This fine offering is situated in the prized “Lindendale” area, with long frontage on Maenius Road, about 10 miles west of Blanco (restaurants, shops, services, supplies), or 20 miles to Fredericksburg (world class restaurants/shops, jet airport, hospital, box stores). This is about one hour from both Austin (tech center, State Capitol) and San Antonio (medical center, international airport, nations 7th largest city), in the epicenter of the famed Texas Hill Country.

The area is known for its scenery and seclusion, while being in the shadow of one of the most dynamic growth areas in the country. Once known as Angora Goat country, this zone is now dominated by improved recreational ranches and stock farms of several hundred acres and up. Adjoiners range from 100 acres and up in size, and the feel of the area is decidedly rural. For more information on either Blanco or Kendall Counties, please visit (<http://www.co.blanco.tx.us/> or <http://www.co.kendall.tx.us/>).

WATER: The tract features several hundred feet of both sides of strong-flowing Falls Creek in the eastern corner. Riffles and holes characterize this water, which includes bass, minnows and perch. A large drainage passes through, offering excellent impoundment opportunities. A focused surface water development program elevates this ranch to the next level!

Groundwater is rated excellent in this area, with abundant, sweet water available at 400-500’ depth. There is one functioning water well on the ranch; additional data on area groundwater is available at Blanco-Pedernales GCD and Cow Creek GCD (<http://www.blancocountygroundwater.org/> and <http://www.ccgcd.org/>).

LAND: A good variety of low hills, gentle canyons and rolling pastureland comprises the bulk of WBR-FCT, which is bisected by a large seasonal creek. The looming shoulders offer stunning homesites and viewpoints overlooking the picturesque Blanco River valley below. The look is refined (think Napa Valley), yet rugged, with various species of oak dominating the landscape, with little to no cedar to be found.

The site features creeks lined with heritage oaks, cedar elm, walnut and some sycamores. Shrubs include persimmon and agarita, with native and introduced grasses such as Indiangrass, bluestem, switchgrass and kleingrass, and native turfs. The abundant wildlife includes whitetail deer, a few exotics, turkey, dove and varmints. Feral hogs are found in this area as well, but not in epidemic numbers.

Soils are primarily stony clays in higher elevations, and silty clays in the more level areas. There are small sections of the property suitable for light cultivation or food plots.

IMPROVEMENTS: Ranch fencing and cross fencing is mostly fair to good, and ranch roads are unimproved but passable. You are definitely not paying for someone else's impractical improvements here!

SUMMARY: If you seek quality, unimproved land in bulk at high value, with impeccable location, WBR-FCT should be on your short list of prospects. This blank canvas has that "clean Lindendale look," due to grazing by Angoras decades ago which virtually eliminated the cedar but preserved the oaks. The combo of scenery, water development potential, location, dramatic homesites with a tad of fertile land is second to none. We appreciate your consideration, and welcome your inquiries, and hope to see you soon.

FINANCIAL/TITLE: Listing price is $6,500/acre, sellers will furnish new survey and basic title insurance. Mineral conveyance is negotiable. Electricity is provided by Pedernales Electric Coop. The ranch is located in the Blanco ISD, and estimated ag-exempt taxes are $400 per year.

Additional land available up to 1,775 acres, total.

Texas law requires all real estate licensees to give the following information about brokerage services to prospective buyers, tenants, sellers and landlords.

Information About Brokerage Services

Before working with a real estate broker, you should know that the duties of a broker depend on whom the broker represents. If you are a prospective seller or landlord (owner) or a prospective buyer or tenant (buyer), you should know that the broker who lists the property for sale or lease is the owner's agent. A broker who acts as a subagent represents the owner in cooperation with the listing broker. A broker who acts as a buyer's agent represents the buyer. A broker may act as an intermediary between the parties if the parties consent in writing. A broker can assist you in locating a property, preparing a contract or lease, or obtaining financing without representing you. A broker is obligated by law to treat you honestly.

IF THE BROKER REPRESENTS THE OWNER:

The broker becomes the owner's agent by entering into an agreement with the owner, usually through a written - listing agreement, or by agreeing to act as a subagent by accepting an offer of subagency from the listing broker. A subagent may work in a different real estate office. A listing broker or subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first. The buyer should not tell the owner's agent anything the buyer would not want the owner to know because an owner's agent must disclose to the owner any material information known to the agent.

IF THE BROKER REPRESENTS THE BUYER:

The broker becomes the buyer's agent by entering into an agreement to represent the buyer, usually through a written buyer representation agreement. A buyer's agent can assist the owner but does not represent the owner and must place the interests of the buyer first. The owner should not tell a buyer's agent anything the owner would not want the buyer to know because a buyer's agent must disclose to the buyer any material information known to the agent.

IF THE BROKER ACTS AS AN INTERMEDIARY:

A broker may act as an intermediary between the parties if the broker complies with The Texas Real Estate License

Act. The broker must obtain the written consent of each party to the transaction to act as an intermediary. The written consent must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. The broker is required to treat each party honestly and fairly and to comply with The Texas Real Estate License Act. A broker who acts as an intermediary in a transaction:

- (1) shall treat all parties honestly;
- (2) may not disclose that the owner will accept a price less than the asking price unless authorized in writing to do so by the owner;
- (3) may not disclose that the buyer will pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer unless authorized in writing to do so by the buyer; and
- (4) may not disclose any confidential information or any information that a party specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose unless authorized in writing to disclose the information or required to do so by The Texas Real Estate License Act or a court order or if the information materially relates to the condition of the property.

With the parties' consent, a broker acting as an intermediary between the parties may appoint a person who is licensed under The Texas Real Estate License Act and associated with the broker to communicate with and carry out instructions of one party and another person who is licensed under that Act and associated with the broker to communicate with and carry out instructions of the other party.

If you choose to have a broker represent you, you should enter into a written agreement with the broker that clearly establishes the broker's obligations and your obligations. The agreement should state how and by whom the broker will be paid. You have the right to choose the type of representation, if any, you wish to receive. Your payment of a fee to a broker does not necessarily establish that the broker represents you. If you have any questions regarding the duties and responsibilities of the broker, you should resolve those questions before proceeding.

Real estate licensee asks that you acknowledge receipt of this information about brokerage services for the licensee's records.
