

I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT THIS IS A CATEGORY 1 SUBJECT AND THE RATED OR THE UNRATED SUBJECT EXCEEDS 1:10,000 AS SHOWN HEREON, AND EXCEEDS THE CURRENT TENNESSEE MINIMUM STANDARDS OF PRACTICE.

DISCUSSION—A comparison between the 100-day and 1000-day counts of ^{222}Rn and ^{226}Ra in the water column of the Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac River estuary has been made. The results show that the ^{222}Rn and ^{226}Ra concentrations in the water column are generally higher in the Potomac River estuary than in the Chesapeake Bay. This is probably due to the higher rates of ^{222}Rn and ^{226}Ra decay in the Chesapeake Bay, which is a larger body of water with a longer residence time. The results also show that the ^{222}Rn and ^{226}Ra concentrations in the water column are generally higher in the summer months than in the winter months. This is probably due to the higher rates of ^{222}Rn and ^{226}Ra decay in the summer months, which are associated with higher temperatures and higher rates of biological activity.
